AN EX-STRIKER SUES

WM. GAMBOLD WANTS $15,000 FOR HIS INCARCERATION.

Supt. Darlington and the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. Made Defendants—Sentence of an Incendiary.

Frank G. Darlington, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and the railroad company itself were yesterday made defendants in a damage suit growing out of the late strike difficulties. The plaintiff is William Gambold and he asks damages in the sum of $15,000 for his arrest at the instigation of Darlington, acting on behalf of the railroad company. The complaint is a lengthy one in three paragraphs and sets forth the facts relating to the issuing of the injunction by Judge Baker against Debs and other of the strikers. Gambold then alleges that Darlington "falsely, wrongfully, unlawfully, wickedly, wantonly, maliciously and without any reasonable or probable cause" made affidavit that he had been guilty of contempt of court in violation of the injunction of the federal court after the writ had been served upon him. Upon the affidavit of Darlington District Attorney Burke filed an information against the plaintiff and he was arrested at Terre Haute on Aug. 5 and confined in jail there till the following day. He was then brought to Indianapolis and taken immediately before the federal court. He alleges that, being a poor man, he was unable to give bond and in default thereof was committed to jail. He was held in the Marion county jail from that date until Sept. 7, when he was again brought before the United States Court and released on his personal bond in the sum of $200.

On Sept. 12 he was tried under the affidavit and information upon which he had been arrested and was acquitted. He avers that at the time of his arrest he was employed at Terre Haute in the capacity of yard foreman for the Evansville and Terre Haute Railroad Company and that as a consequence of his arrest and imprisonment he lost his job. Prior to his arrest in his capacity of yard foreman he had earned $2.50 a day. He thinks that by reason of the loss of his employment and the humiliation consequent upon his arrest he has been damaged in the sum of $15,000.

She Wants Her Children.

Ester Miller and John Miller were married in 1887. The former says that her husband, in addition to failing to provide for her, has frequently struck her; that he is an habitual drunkard, and that during her absence from home he removed all the household furniture and left her without food or means of sustaining herself. She has possession of their children, and alleges that her husband has threatened to take them from her by force. For these reasons she asks that she be granted a divorce and custody of the children. She also asks that an order be issued restraining her husband from executing his threat to take them from her.

Charges Against an Administrator.
Anna M. Weis and Elizabeth Mueller, heirs of Anna Schussler, yesterday filed exceptions to the final report of administrator John Rauh. The grounds upon which the report is attacked is that certain payments made to the administrator and the attorney were exorbitant. It is alleged that the administrator received money for a needless debt contracted by his own carelessness. They ask that the final report be set aside on account of the alleged misconduct of the administrator.

Rebecca Wolpen's Charges.

Rebecca Wolpen, in a suit filed in the Marion county courts, alleges that her husband, Moses Wolpen, fraudulently obtained title to real estate owned by her in Michigan, and sold it for part cash and took a mortgage for the balance. After she avers that he moved her and his family to Indianapolis and then secretly secured a divorce from her. The mortgage has been paid and she asks judgment for $88, the proceeds of the mortgage.

Fined for Disturbing Populists.

Seth Erickson, who was arrested by officer Sullivan for drunkenness and disturbing a Populist meeting at Washington and Meridian streets, was fined $5 and costs in each case yesterday. Sullivan was set upon by the crowd at the time of the arrest. He was off duty at the time and was in citizens' clothes, which made the crowd doubt his being an officer. A man bearing the name of Papadopolis, who led the interference with the officer, was discharged.

Arthur T. Taggart Sued.

John L. Jones has sued Arthur T. Taggart for $315.13, alleged to be due on five notes. The complaint alleges that the defendant holds a certificate of membership in the Order of Equity, which is about to mature, and asks that it be made a garnishee defendant to answer as to the funds under its control belonging to the defendant.

Lee Miles Gets Ninety Days.

Judge Stubbs yesterday sentenced Lee Miles, formerly a private policeman at the Empire Theater, for ninety days and fined him $50 for failing to support his wife. His testimony was that he failed to support her, and that last winter she had to appeal to the Commercial Club relief committee for food.

Thornton's Mandamus Suit.

A demurrer has been filed in the mandamus suit begun by Ben Thornton against Superintendent Goss, of the public schools. The case was up for trial yesterday morning before acting Judge Wishard, but was continued till the return of Judge Winters.

Eight Months for Arson.

Acting Judge Kealing yesterday sentenced John Marsh to eight months in the workhouse for arson. He was indicted for setting fire to the stable of Benham, Long & Blackwell. Herbert, who was indicted with Marsh, was acquitted.

Henry Burghelm Sues for Slander.

Henry D. Burghelm has sued Charles E. Bernhardt and wife for $2,000 damages for alleged slander. The plaintiff says that on or about Aug. 31 the defendants called him a thief and said that he had stolen their money.

A Fine for Carrying Weapons.

Dennis Hall was fined $50 and costs yesterday by Judge Stubbs for carrying concealed weapons.

A BATTLE IN A CORNFIELD.

Party of Farmers, Southeast of Town, Pursue a Man and Woman.

Theodore Wilson, with five other farmers, residing at a point about four miles southeast of the city, had an exciting experience with two thieves early yesterday morning. The farmers in that neighborhood have suffered in the last few weeks from thieves, who carried away their poultry and produce. Friday night the six determined to capture the thieves, and, armed with shotguns and revolvers, concealed themselves in a garden close to the roadside. Shortly after midnight they heard the sounds of a horse and buggy approaching, and then a horse saying, "We had better get out here." The horse was not stopped until opposite Mr. Wilson's sweet potato patch. The occupants of the buggy, a man and a woman, alighted, tied the horse to the fence and entered the field. Three of the men took positions near the buggy to intercept the intruders should they become alarmed and return, while the other two started after the visitors. The strangers heard a noise and fled across a cornfield, pursued by the farmers. "Stop and surrender" was the command given by the farmers. The only reply was the report of the revolver in the man's hands, and a bullet went whizzing by above the heads of the pursuers. The warning to stop and surrender was again given, but this only called forth another shot from the pursued, and the farmers then opened fire. In all about a dozen shots were fired, but the thieves escaped. A pair of lady's white kid slippers were found in the field, and they, together with the horse and buggy, were taken as the spoils of battle. The horse is sound and first class. Mr. Wilson has the trophies in his barn, and is willing to turn them over to the right parties.

ENGLISH LUTHERAN'S PASTOR.

Rev. D. L. Mackenzie, of Sioux City, Accepts a Call.

After Nov. 1 the congregation of the First English Lutheran Church, corner of Pennsylvania and North streets, will have a new pastor. Recently the church extended a call to Rev. D. L. Mackenzie, of Sioux City, and yesterday received an informal notice of his acceptance. Rev. Mr. Mackenzie preached to the First Lutheran congregation three weeks ago, and his sermon was received with such favor that steps were at once taken to secure him as the regular pastor. Rev. A. R. Steck, the former pastor, resigned his position the last of August to take charge of a congregation at Gettysburg, Pa., and since then the church has had no regular pastor. The new minister is fifty years of age. He served the Union during the war and at its close completed his education at the Gettysburg Theological School, graduating from there in 1871. Nine years ago he was sent to Sioux City by the Home Mission Society of the English Lutheran Church to establish the institution of which he is now at the head. Mr. Mackenzie will begin his duties in Indianapolis about Nov. 1.

Grain Inspection Committee.

The grain committee from the Board of Trade yesterday held a meeting to determine whether or not the rules by which Indianapolis grain is inspected shall be enforced. A recent decision of Inspector Dunn regarding a carload of corn had been appealed from, and the committee reversed it. The question was discussed, and the inspector instructed to continue his work in strict conformity with the rules of the board.
